"Please calm down and sit," said Mr. Johnson, "I'm glad everyone's here for the final reading test of the year." When everyone cried, Mr. Johnson laughed, saying it was just a joke. Then he reminded us that we still had a job to do. "You need to clean out your desks and put all your things into your backpacks," he added gently.

As we began our task, Mr. Johnson turned on the CD player. The lively music made the room feel like a party. Some of us started singing along with the music, others were dancing around their desks while they were cleaning them out. Even Mr. Johnson showed us a few dance steps, making everyone laugh heartily. After we finished cleaning, someone asked, "When is break time?" "Mr. Johnson took out some balls and started playing with them. Suddenly, he let the balls drop and said, "Break time starts...now!"

Just as we were about to rush out, our headmaster, Mrs. Miller, appeared at the door. "Mr. Johnson!" she cried out. A moment of silence fell over the room as we thought, "Mr. Johnson might be in trouble." However, to our surprise, Mrs. Miller couldn't help but laugh at the sight and left us to enjoy our break.

During break time, Mr. Johnson surprised us with another treat. He went to the cafe and came back with ice

4. (8分) ① Have you ever thought about what's more important, looking fashionable or feeling comfortable?

You might have noticed many people choosing style over comfort and some even go to extremes (极端) to follow fashion. But we should remember: being fashionable isn't everything. It's more important to be healthy.

② Some people believe that they need to be a certain size to look good. So, they start extreme diets (日常饮食) that are not good for their health. They might not eat meals or eat too little, which can make them feel sick. Is it a healthy way to live?

To make their hair straight or curly, they also use tools that are hot enough to burn their hair. But using these tools too often or at very high temperatures can make the hair dry or even burnt. Is it really worth it to risk our health, spending so much time and money?

⑤ So, let's rethink what's really important. Is it fashion or is it our well - being? Clothes or hairstyles don't tell us anything about a person's character. Instead of spending a lot of time choosing clothes, we could use that time to do fun things with friends. And instead of following extreme diets, let's eat properly and exercise regularly. 【分析】这篇短文主要讲述了学年最后一天的故事。教室里充满了兴奋和欢笑，当老师 Johnson 拿着 CD 播放器走进教室时，学生们的脸上都露出了微笑。老师告诉大家今天不是普通的一天，但还是需要

完成最后的阅读测试。当学生们哭喊时，老师笑着告诉他们这只是一个玩笑。然后老师提醒大家需要整理书桌并把所有东西放进背包里。在这个过程中，老师打开了 CD 播放器，欢快的音乐让教室里充满了派对的气氛。有些学生跟着音乐唱歌，有些学生则在整理书桌时跳舞。甚至老师也向大家展示了一些舞步，让大家开心地笑了起来。整理完书桌后，有人问："休息时间什么时候？"老师拿出一些球开始玩耍，然后突然放下球说："休息时间从现在开始！"在休息时间里，老师又给大家带来了惊喜，他去咖啡厅买了冰淇淋给大家。当大家回到教室时，校长出现在门口，大家都以为老师会受到惩罚，但校长却被老师的表现逗笑了。最后，大家一起笑着走向教室，度过了一个愉快的学年最后一天。

【解答】(1) 细节理解题。根据第 2 段 said Mr.Johnson, "I'm glad everyone's here for the final reading test of the year." (Johnson 先生说, "我很高兴大家都来参加今年的期末阅读考试。") 可知 Johnson 老师首先开玩笑说要考试; 根据第 2 段 "Then he reminded us that we still had a job to do." "You need to clean out your desks and put all your things into your backpacks, "he added gently." (然后他提醒我们, 我们还有工作要做。"你们需要把桌子清理干净, 把所有的东西都放进背包里, "他温和地补充道。) 可知接着提醒学生们要清理桌子。即前两件事顺序为④③, 然后是第 3 段 Mr.Johnson took out some balls and started playing with them. (约翰逊先生拿出一些球, 开始玩起来。)。故选 D。

(2) 代词指代题。根据第 3 段 "others were dancing around their desks while they were cleaning them out." (其他人在清理桌子的时候围着桌子跳舞。) 可知一些人在打扫桌子时围着桌子跳舞。划线部分 "them" 指代前文 "their desks"。故选 C。

(4) 推理判断题。根据第 6 段 "We all laughed together..." (我们一起笑了起来) 和全文可知在学年的最后一天, 学生们都很开心, 可推知接下来学生高兴地回家了。故选 A。

4. (8 分) ① Have you ever thought about what's more important, looking fashionable or feeling comfortable? You might have noticed many people choosing style over comfort and some even go to extremes (极端) to follow fashion. But we should remember: being fashionable isn't everything. It's more important to be healthy.

② Some people believe that they need to be a certain size to look good. So, they start extreme diets (日常饮食) that are not good for their health. They might not eat meals or eat too little, which can make them feel sick. Is it a healthy way to live?

③ Also, many girls wear shoes with very high heels. They might think high heels make them look taller. But these shoes can actually hurt their feet and make it hard to walk comfortably, and it can increase risks of falls. Some even wear tight (紧的) clothes that influence blood circulation (循环), making it hard to breathe. Should we put fashion over comfort and physical health?

④ Besides, some boys and girls spend a lot of time and money changing their hair color. The material they use is usually harmful to their health. To make their hair straight or curly, they also use tools that are hot enough to burn their hair. But using these tools too often or at very high temperatures can make the hair dry or even burnt. Is it really worth it to risk our health, spending so much time and money?

⑤ So, let's rethink what's really important. Is it fashion or is it our well-being? Clothes or hairstyles don't tell us anything about a person's character. Instead of spending a lot of time choosing clothes, we could use that time to do fun things with friends. And instead of following extreme diets, let's eat properly and exercise regularly. Remember, your worth is not decided by your appearance, but by who you are as a person.

(1) Why do some people go on extreme diets according to the passage? B

- A. Because the diets are healthy.
- B. Because they just want to look good.
- C. Because they want to save time.
- D. Because they want to save money.

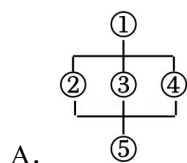

(2) What is the writer's purpose of using a question in each paragraph? D

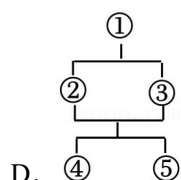

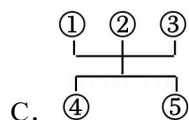

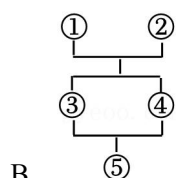

- A. To ask for help from readers.
- B. To tell how to spend time and money.
- C. To describe the latest fashion.
- D. To lead readers to think about the topic.

(3) What does the underlined word "well-being" in Paragraph 5 mean? B

- A. Growth.
- B. Health.
- C. Warmth.
- D. Wealth.

5. (8 分) Plants are more than just pretty to look at. They give us fruits, vegetables and food we eat. Some plants even provide materials for medicine or building things. But do you know that plants can do something even more amazing? They can make our homes, schools and workplaces much healthier.

We spend a large part of our day indoors. Unluckily, the air inside buildings can often be full of chemicals (化学物质) from many things around us. This poor air quality (质量) can make us feel sick, causing sore eyes and throats, and even making it hard for us to breathe. When the air inside buildings gets really bad, people even call them "sick buildings".

The good news is that plants are like nature's little superheroes. They have a magic power fighting against bad air. Plants breathe in carbon dioxide (CO₂) and breathe out oxygen (O₂) which we humans need to live. They can also add moisture to the air if it's too dry, making it more comfortable for us to breathe.

_____ Scientists have discovered that plants have the ability to take in harmful chemicals, making the air around us safer to breathe. They set up a completely closed building called "bio - home" for experiments. Before they added plants, the air inside was full of chemicals and people found it hard to breathe. But after they added plants, the air got much cleaner and it became easier to breathe. To make the air inside even better, the scientists used different kinds of plants. After a while, the building wasn't a "sick building" any more. People could go inside without feeling unwell.

So you see, plants are fantastic! They are not only beautiful to look at, but they also provide us with food, help create materials and play an important role in our health. They make our indoor environments cleaner and healthier, making us feel better. Next time you see a plant, remember all the amazing things it can do for us!

(1) Which of the following is one way for plants to improve the air inside buildings? B

- A. They breathe out carbon dioxide.
- B. They produce oxygen.
- C. They give out harmful chemicals.
- D. They make the air dry.

(2) Which can be the best to fill in the blank A in Paragraph 4?

- A. But the most amazing thing plants can do is to clean the air.
- B. But one interesting thing plants can do is to build things.
- C. But plants can provide what humans need to eat.
- D. But plants can be used to make medicine for humans.

(3) How does the writer support his opinion about plants improving air quality? D

- A. By telling personal experiences.
- B. By providing numbers and forms.
- C. By questioning famous scientists.
- D. By using scientific experiments.

(4) What does the writer mainly want to tell us? C

- A. Plants are important for providing food.
